TACOMA MOON FESTIVAL
2023 Sponsorship Package
Dear Friends:

The Chinese Reconciliation Project Foundation is pleased to announce our 2023 annual Tacoma Moon Festival will be held on September 9, again in person! We look forward to greeting festival attendees at the Chinese Reconciliation Park, hosting live performances under event tents by the Fuzhou Ting Stage, and sponsoring local artist booths, kids’ activity booths, storytelling and calligraphy booths, the tea ceremony, food vendor stalls, as well as the beer and wine garden!

The Tacoma Moon Festival is an event that celebrates diversity within our great City of Tacoma with emphasis on introducing the Chinese Mid-Autumn Festival and the legend of the Moon Princess. The day is meant to share the arts and heritage of Tacoma’s many different immigrant cultures through stage performances, crafts and other activities. In the past, the Tacoma Moon Festival has attracted more than 3,000 festival goers. Receiving great media attention through our local TV, radio station, newspapers and social media, this event provides an important opportunity for building community and connections.

This annual celebration honors the rich diversity of culture in Tacoma today, brought here by our immigrant communities over the 150 years of the city’s history.

The Chinese Reconciliation Project hopes to spread the message of reconciliation and cultural harmony through education. Our mission is to provide as much opportunity as we can to show how cultural wealth can unify us all. As we continue to promote our message of inclusion and harmony in diversity, I hope that you can see the value in our efforts and will support what promises to be another great event.

We invite you to please join us for the Tacoma Moon Festival and to consider being a sponsor for our event. The Tacoma Moon Festival offers a great marketing opportunity for your organization to network with thousands of people within our diverse community. Thank you for your kind consideration. I hope to see you at the 2023 festival!

Sincerely,

Theresa Pan Hosley

About Us

The Chinese Reconciliation Project Foundation (CRPF) is a non-profit organization that works to advance civic and cultural harmony. We engage in social and cultural conflicts in order to build pathways to reconciliation. Through education, we broaden understanding and illuminate the commonalities of individuals within our community.

CRPF has truly been a labor of love for the last 30 years. We have worked with the City of Tacoma and the community to acknowledge and reconcile the forceful expulsion of 1885, which drove the Chinese population out of Tacoma. This exclusionary act was in response to complex conditions of the time, among them economic decline and anti-Chinese sentiment. The expulsion caused a great rift between the city and the Chinese people, an effect that is tangible and felt within the community even today.

Actively working to heal our community, the CRPF created the Tacoma Chinese Reconciliation Park. The park serves as a destination that educates people about the expulsion and spreads our message of hope, healing, and inclusivity. Using the park as a model of reconciliation, the CRPF aims to demonstrate how the process of reconciliation can generate positive change and inspire a united community, both locally and globally.

For a city to publicly acknowledge the wrongdoing, I think it shows sincerity of making amends...And in the Chinese culture, we always emphasize forgiving and moving on... The project is [certainly] not just about sharing of culture, but it is a healing of the heart. It is a reminder of how we should interact with each other. We need to be more tolerant, understanding... between family members... and between people of different cultures.

History of the Moon Festival

Historically, the Moon Festival was a time to enjoy the successful reaping of rice and wheat with food offerings made in honor of the moon. Today, it is still an occasion for outdoor reunions among friends and relatives to eat mooncakes and watch the moon, a symbol of harmony and unity. The traditions and myths surrounding the festival have consistently revolved around three fundamental meanings: gathering, thanksgiving and prayer. Gathering signifies the coming together of friends and family. Thanksgiving is to give thanks for the harvest and for harmonious unions. Prayer is for longevity, guidance, and hope that good fortune is bestowed upon us and our loved ones in the future.

Traditions

Mooncakes – Making and sharing mooncakes is one of the hallmark traditions of this festival. In Chinese culture, a round shape symbolizes completeness and unity. Thus, the sharing of round mooncakes among family and friends signifies the completeness and unity of those relationships.

Lanterns – In order to have nighttime celebrations and reinforce the mood of happiness lanterns were used as decorations in the Moon Festival celebration. Shapes and images on the lanterns were designed to relate to nature, agricultural produce, community culture, and to emphasize the festival’s meaning of gathering, thanksgiving, and praying. Throughout the years the appearance, form, and function of these lanterns has evolved, it began simple and local and in time grew to be complex and mix-cultured.

People have sorrow and joy, they part or meet again; the Moon may be bright or dim, she may wax or wane. There has been nothing prefect since the olden days, so let us wish that men will live long as they can! Though miles apart, we’ll share the beauty she displays.

Legend of the Moon Princess

In ancient times, the Earth once had ten suns circling over it, each taking its turn to illuminate the Earth. One day all ten suns appeared in the sky together, which scorched all crops and made people’s lives miserable. The Earth was saved by a hero named Hou Yi, who shot down nine suns out of the sky, leaving just one for the people. For his efforts, Hou Yi received an elixir from the Empress of Heaven. It was said that after swallowing the elixir, one would immediately ascend to Heaven and become immortal.

One day, when Hou Yi went hunting, Peng Meng, one of his disciples demanded Hou Yi’s wife Chang’e to give him the elixir. Realizing she would be unable to defeat Peng Meng, Chang’e swallowed the elixir to prevent Peng Meng from stealing it. After drinking it, Chang’e began to float toward the Heaven. Chang’e settled down on the moon, the place in Heaven closest to the Earth.

When Hou Yi returned home, he learned about what happened. Shocked and furious, he looked into the night sky and called out her name. To his surprise, he saw a figure on the moon that was exactly like Chang’e. Hou Yi then had an incense table arranged in the back garden and filled it with his wife’s favorite foods and fresh fruits to express his affection for her. When people heard the story about Chang’e, they also set incense tables in the moonlight and prayed for her.

Your sponsorship helps to offset festival expenses which ensures that more money can go back into the services, promotions and other efforts that help the CRPF achieve its vision and goals.

Partnerships are offered to those companies that provide a free product or service that is deemed critical to putting on the festival, such as the printing of festival materials or provisions of technical expertise. If the sponsorship offerings shown do not meet your needs, the CRPF is open to working with you to create a custom sponsorship program.

Trust is a fragile bridge that must be built each day. Initiatives of Change and Hope in the Cities propose values of honesty, purity, unselfishness and love as building blocks of this bridge of trust.

Honesty about our failures, purity in our motives, unselfishness in our support of others, and love in our readiness to forgive and accept forgiveness. Trust depends on the authenticity of our lives, our openness, and our willingness to start with change in ourselves.
